STAT

You may recall that I mentioned the possibility of a group of our students coming to Washington for a series of interviews with people in government. A group of about 12 to 14 of them are going down the week of Monday, January 30th with my departmental colleague, Nelson Guild, and I have strongly urged that they try to see you, among others, if possible. Would it be possible for you to give them about an hour of your time any time either on Wednesday or Thursday, February 1st and 2nd respectively or Friday morning, February 3rd. I'm not sure how strong a group we have this year, but in any event I know they would profit mightily by talking with you.

I'm terribly sorry about the snafu in dates for your lecture up here and I do very much appreciate your willingness to go along with the shift involved.

Ruth joins in greetings to you and Mary.

Sincerely,

Rocky
